

Happy Village

using Happy Village cards to assign stakeholder groups to mixed groups

Instructions:

For stage 1 of exercise 1, divide participants into 8 stakeholder groups (A-H). The easiest way to assign groups is to have participants count off starting with A and proceeding through H, and then back to A and so on. If the total number of participants in your group is not divisible by 8, then some stakeholder groups will have an extra participant. Extra participants should be assigned to group A first, then group B, etc. For example if you have 18 participants, groups A and B will each have 3 members while groups C-H will each have 2 members.

While working in their stakeholder groups, distribute a Happy Village card to each participant. The letter on the card refers to the participant's stakeholder group. The number refers to the mixed group table the person will sit at for stage 2 of the exercise. All members of stakeholder group B will receive Happy Village cards with the letter B.

Happy Village card. "B" refers to the stakeholder group. "2" indicates that the person who receives this card will sit at table 2 in stage 2 of the exercise.

Begin by finding the row corresponding to the number of participants in your group in the tables that follow. If you have 18 participants, you will distribute cards as follows. Two people in stakeholder group A will receive cards labeled "A1" and the third person will receive a card labeled "A2." In stakeholder group B, two people receive cards labeled "B2." For stakeholder groups C-H, each participant will receive a card with either a "1" or a "2." When stage 1 of the exercise is complete, instruct participants to move to the table bearing the number that appears on their Happy Village cards. For this example for 18 participants, there will be 2 tables in stage 2 each with 9 participants representing stakeholder groups A-H. Table 1 will have two people from stakeholder group A. Table 2 will have two people from stakeholder group B.
